Abstract—This document is a template for the 2026 International Symposium on Sustainable Innovation in Smart Agriculture and already defines the components of your paper in its style sheet. Please limit your article from 4 to 8 pages.

Keywords—component, formatting, style, styling, 4-8 pages

I. INTRODUCTION

This template provides authors with most of the formatting specifications needed for preparing electronic versions of their papers. Margins, column widths, line spacing, and type styles are built-in; examples of the type styles are provided throughout this document. Some components, such as multi-leveled equations, graphics, and tables are not prescribed, although the various table text styles are provided.

II. METHODOLOGY

A. Maintaining the Integrity of the Specifications

The template is used to format your paper and style the text. All margins, column widths, line spaces, and text fonts are prescribed; please do not alter them.

Before you begin to format your paper, first write and save the content as a separate text file. Complete all content and organizational editing before formatting.

B. Abbreviations and Acronyms

Define abbreviations and acronyms the first time they are used in the text, even after they have been defined in the abstract. Do not use abbreviations in the title or heads unless they are unavoidable.

C. Equations

The equations are an exception to the prescribed specifications of this template. You will need to determine whether or not your equation should be typed using either the Times New Roman or the Symbol font. Number equations consecutively. Equation numbers, within parentheses, are to position flush right, as in (1).

$$a + b = \gamma \quad (1)$$

III. RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

After the text edit has been completed, the paper is ready for the template. In this newly created file, highlight all of the contents and import your prepared text file.

A. Authors and Affiliations

Author names should be listed starting from left to right. Names should not be listed in columns nor group by affiliation. Please keep your affiliations as succinct as possible (for example, do not differentiate among departments of the same organization).

B. Identify the Headings

Headings, or heads, are organizational devices that guide the reader through your paper. There are two types: component heads and text heads.

Component heads identify the different components of your paper and are not typically subordinate to each other. Use "figure caption" for your Figure captions, and "table head" for your table title. Run-in heads, such as "Abstract", will require you to apply a style (in this case, italic) in addition to the style provided by the drop down menu to differentiate the head from the text.

Text heads organize the topics on a relational, hierarchical basis. For example, the paper title is the primary text head because all subsequent material relates and elaborates on this one topic. If there are two or more sub-topics, the next level head (uppercase Roman numerals) should be used and, conversely, if there are not at least two sub-topics, then no subheads should be introduced. Styles named "Heading 1", "Heading 2", "Heading 3", and "Heading 4" are prescribed.

C. Figures and Tables

a) Positioning Figures and Tables: Large figures and tables may span across both columns. Figure captions should be below the figures; table heads should appear above the tables. Insert figures and tables after they are cited in the text. Use the abbreviation “Fig. 1”, even at the beginning of a sentence.

Table Head	Table Column Head
	Table column subhead	Subhead	Subhead
copy	More table copy

Figure Labels: Use 8 point Times New Roman for Figure labels. Use words rather than symbols or abbreviations when writing Figure axis labels to avoid confusing the reader.

IV. CONCLUSION

V. REFERENCES

The template will number citations consecutively within brackets [1]. The sentence punctuation follows the bracket [2]. Refer simply to the reference number, as in [3]—do not use “Ref. [3]” or “reference [3]” except at the beginning of a sentence. Capitalize only the first word in a paper title, except for proper nouns and element symbols.
